

IDW10100
Australian Government Bureau of Meteorology
Western Australia

Western Australia Forecast

Issued at 4:45 am WST on Sunday 5 May 2024
for the period until midnight WST Wednesday 8 May 2024.

Warning Information

For latest warnings go to www.bom.gov.au, subscribe to RSS feeds, call 1300 659 210* or listen for warnings on relevant TV and radio broadcasts.

Weather Situation - Northern Western Australia

A ridge to the southeast is maintaining moderate to fresh and gusty east to southeast winds over northern parts of the state. A weak trough lies near the Pilbara coast.

Weather Situation - Southern and Central Western Australia

A low pressure system south of the State will move closer to the south coast today before weakening on Monday. A trough extends from the low through central parts of WA. A weak ridge lies over the southwest corner.

Forecast for the rest of Sunday 5 May

Showers over the Southwest, South Coastal, Southeast Coastal, Great Southern districts and far south of the Central Wheat Belt. Showers tending scattered over the South Coastal districts. Possible thunderstorms over the South Coastal, South East Coastal and adjacent Great Southern districts, the eastern Goldfields and western Eucla. Chance of morning fog over the far southern Goldfields, the adjacent Southeast Coastal district and western Eucla.

Forecast for Monday 6 May

Showers over southern districts of the South West Land Division and southern Goldfields. Possible thunderstorms over the South East Coastal district, far eastern Great Southern and Central Wheat Belt, southern and central Goldfields and western Eucla. Possible morning fog over the southern and central parts of the South West Land Division.

Forecast for Tuesday 7 May

Isolated showers along the south coast, west of Albany. Possible morning fog over the far southern South West Land Division.

Forecast for Wednesday 8 May

Mostly sunny. Windy morning over the Central West, southern Gascoyne and northern Goldfields.

The next routine forecast will be issued at 4:30 pm WST Sunday.

* Calls to 1300 numbers cost around 27.5c incl. GST, higher from mobiles or public phones.